

UDOT Engineering Challenge Load Testing Diagram

The load is tested by a piston protruding up through bridge and connecting to a block of wood that is 2 inches wide and approximately 2" shorter than the clear span. The piston then pulls down the block with the applied force until the bridge fails.

